Prefatory Note

IN 1865 the first part of "A Catalogue of Books relating to North and South America in the Library of John Carter Brown, of Providence, R. I.," was printed in an edition of fifty copies. It was prepared by Mr. John Russell Bartlett and contained bibliographical notes by him. This modest publication of seventy-nine pages included the books printed between 1493 and 1600 which Mr. Bartlett deemed worthy of notice —302 titles in all. A second part, 1601–1700, giving 1154 titles, a few manuscripts, and an index, followed in 1866; and a third part, 1701–1800, printed in two sections, giving 4173 titles, appeared in 1870 and 1871. So rapidly did the library grow under Mr. Brown's care that in 1875 the first volume of a new catalogue, still of selected titles, was printed, in an edition of one hundred and seventy copies, with full titles, elaborate bibliographical notes, and numerous reproductions of title-pages, printers' marks, and illustrations. The division of periods was the same as in the earlier issue. The first volume, 1482–1600, gave 600 titles, and the second volume, 1601–1700, issued in 1882, described 1642 titles, evidence of the increase in the collection in ten years. Since 1882 no attempt has been made to complete the catalogue, or to issue supplements of the more recent acquisitions.

These revised catalogues appeared after the death of Mr. John Carter Brown (June 10, 1874), and were issued by his widow, to whose care the library was left. Although the library was not transferred to Mr. John Nicholas Brown until 1898, he and his brother, Mr. Harold Brown, were long eager and persistent collectors. Mr. John Nicholas Brown died May 1, 1900.

The Trustees under the will of John Nicholas Brown, as thereby authorized, gave to Brown University all those books, manuscripts, engravings, and maps composing his library or collection known as his Bibliotheca Americana, the bust of his father, John Carter Brown, and also the sum of five hundred thousand dollars as a permanent endowment trust fund for the extension of the Library and its administration; also the further sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for a library building, which was built from plans approved by Mr. Brown. Through the will of Mr. Harold Brown, who survived his brother but a short time, all books which he had collected relating to North or South America, printed or written before the year A.D. 1801, were added to his brother's Americana. The Library also possesses Mr. Harold Brown's collection of liturgical volumes, tractates, sermons, and historical material illustrating the history of the Church of England and of the Episcopal Church in the United States of America. This was given to the Library by Mrs. Harold Brown after her husband's death, and from time to time she has added some rare books of which the collection stood in need. The titles of the books contained in "The Harold Brown Collection on the History of the Church in America" are included in the present catalogue.

The John Carter Brown Library is the only important library in the United States devoted to collecting Americana printed before the nineteenth century; its rival, the Lenox collection, has been absorbed in the New York Public Library, and the later collection of Mr. E. D. Church has been drawn into the general library of Mr. Henry E. Huntington. As the largest and most valuable independent Library of early Americana it will occupy in the future, as it has in the past, a commanding place in the subject. It has grown much since 1882, and it still grows. The Committee of Management believes that no more fitting record of the labors and interest of the founders of the Library can be made, and no more valuable aid to scholars and contribution to American bibliography can be given, than a catalogue of the present contents of the John Carter Brown Library.

It is planned to include all the printed books, pamphlets, maps, and manuscripts in the Library, with due emphasis upon the Americana, which will always constitute its chief strength. A knowledge of the rarities it contains is more general than when the Catalogue of 1882 appeared, and that makes unnecessary extensive annotation on the titles, as was done in that publication. Full titles will be given where they are necessary to identify an issue beyond any doubt; and references to known bibliographies, like the Church Catalogue, Sabin, Eames, Evans, Pollard, and Medina, will indicate where a full description may be found. This will save undue repetition and excess of detail interesting only to the specialist in bibliography. The chronological arrangement of the first Catalogue will be followed, but maps and the manuscripts will be reserved for separate lists, unless bound and of special interest. This will account for the mere mention of such volumes as the fine examples of Books of Hours. Only a special monograph could do justice to them.

The Committee of Management desires to express its appreciation of the invaluable services of Worthington Chauncey Ford in the preparation of this Catalogue, and of the aid of Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Robson, Assistant Librarian, and Miss Eleanor Stuart Upton, Cataloguer.

BIBLIA PAUPERUM. [c. 1460–70.]

Scenes from the Life of Christ with Old Testament praefigurations and prophecies, known as the Biblia Pauperum or Bible of the Poor. Latin text.

Printed in the Netherlands and Germany, c. 1460–70. Schreiber identifies ten editions, of which the British Museum possesses copies, complete or fragmentary, of seven. This copy was an early issue, and was secured about 1884, from a convent near Bruges; but of the forty leaves eight are in facsimile made from the copy once belonging to George III, now in the British Museum. See Pollard, I. 5.

BIBLIA LATINA. [Not after 1461.]

Leaf, described as from the 36-line "Bibel Gutenbergr. auf Pergament."

It contains the text from Jeremiah xxix, 17 to xxx, 21. The head-lines, chapter-number, and capital and initial-strokes are supplied in red. It answers to the Latin Bible on vellum, printed not later than 1461, described in Pollard, I. 16. No complete copy of this Bible on vellum is known, but leaves have been found in a number of collections.

While the type is that of Gutenberg, the British Museum lists this 36-line Bible among the "Anonymous Presses." Purchased, June, 1912.

Collation in Pollard, I. 22. 398×292 mm. Printed on vellum and bound in two volumes. Large capitals, occupying 5, 7, or 9 lines in two colors (red and blue), supplied by hand, also two line capitals, plain and ornate, in red or blue, and chapter-numbers in red or blue. The names of the different books are written at the top of each page in alternate red and blue letters. Red or red and blue initial-strokes. On the covers are stamped the arms of Prince Eugene of Savoy (1663–1736). Book-plates of Mark Masterman Sykes, Syston Park, and J. H. T[horold]. Hain *3050.

The collation answers to that in Pollard, I. 54, and there are the manuscript quiring and rubricated letters. In the copy noted by Hain (*10763) the date 1471 was written in. The John Carter Brown copy was in the possession of the Fratrum Carmelitarum Heillbrunnae ad vrticas, and is bound in stamped pigskin with metal bosses, but the clasps are gone. Lettered on the border of the upper cover: "scrutiniū · · scripturaꝝ · pro frē · sij · sella · pf · ī adelberg" and on the second cover: "· illigatus · in gijslingen · 1 · 4 · 7 · 0 · per me · rich · en · bach." This determines the year of printing certainly as early as 1470. This binding has been pictured in Winship, Fifteenth Century Books in the Brown University Libraries.

The description by Pollard, iv. 37, applies to this copy, there being no rubrics. 276 × 190 mm. On 1ª is written the name "Hieronijmi Mocoardini." Sussex book-plate. Hain *7057. Brunet gives the year of printing, 1471, and it was printed at Rome by Georgius Lauer.

SENECA, Lucius Annaeus.

Annei lucij Senece de quatuor ‖ virtutibus liber Incipit; . . .

Collation as in Pollard, i. 214, with capitals, paragraph marks, initial-strokes, and underlines in red. 196 × 136 mm. Usually attributed to Ulrich Zell, but Pollard, following Henry Bradshaw, assigns it to the printer of the Historia S. Albani, and gives about 1472 as the year of printing. From the Althorp library.

FLORUS, LUCIUS ANNAEUS.

1ª: Lutii Amnei flori Romane || historie liber primus.

Collation in Pollard, IV. 66, assigns it to the press of Vitus Puecher, apud Sanctum Marcum, but does not even conjecture the year of printing. 280 × 212 mm. Hain *7198. On 1ª: "Ad usum fratris Prędicatorum. Henrici de Pimonte Lectoris Ordinis filij Conuentus Ste. Crucis Stabiensis." On the first cover is a long note of a former owner on the printer, but with a wrong conclusion.

Bound in two parts. There is no rubrication in De Finibis, but De Officiis is rubricated and has many manuscript annotations. De Finibus contains 70 leaves (70 being blank), and De Officiis contains 96 leaves, both having 34 lines to the full page. The leaf with the colophon is wanting. De Finibus is 283×203 mm., and De Officiis, 275×202 mm. Proctor 7909 gives the printers: Louis Symonel, R. Blandin, and J. Simon, at Paris. Hain *5253.

Illustrations and MS. annotations. On the last page is the signature of Christopher Columbus, and two of the marginal notes resemble his engrossing hand; but there is not enough known about the history of the book to accept it as genuine, though no reason can be urged for rejecting it. Obtained, in November, 1917, from the sale of the library of George Dunn, Woolley Hall, near Maidenhead.

The collation answers to that in Eames (Sabin) 66471. 423 × 284 mm. There are blank spaces for inserting initial letters by hand, and the entire series of twenty-six maps is crudely colored. The copy of this edition in the British Museum has one map (No. 22) without colors, and that in the Bodleian Library has only four of the twenty-six in colors.

The date is clearly wrong, and the year of issue adopted by most bibliographers is 1482. See Eames, op. cit.

Collation in Eames (Sabin) 66472. 406×285 mm. Capitals and borders in colors. Ex Bibliotheca Sobolewskiana.

A second copy (450×294 mm.), also without the index and treatise of Donis, contains a map of the world, which is described by Henry N. Stevens (Ptolemy's Geography) as follows: "In the copy purchased for the John Carter Brown Library, I discovered a map of the world which was entirely different, and evidently earlier than the usual one found in the work. In place of the usual straight lettering-scrolls along the tops or bottoms of the Heads of the Winds, the letterings are enclosed in scrolls partly encircling the heads in the form of halos. The usual engraver's inscription, 'Insculptum est per Joannē Schwitzer de Armsꝫheim' does not appear, and the map does not contain so many names of places as the usual one. It is evidently from an entirely different and earlier woodblock. The importance of this map is readily to be perceived, for it is, as far as yet discovered, the earliest printed map in which an attempt is made to lay down the figure of the World on modern geographical conceptions beyond the limits of the old Ptolemeian maps. So far no other specimen of this valuable map has been found." The impression of Africa II is described as also distinct. Mr. Stevens has much to say on the confused arrangement in this edition (pp. 26, 27). Purchased in 1902.

A third copy contains the index and treatise of Donis. On 1ª of the Registrum are MS. notes. Walckenaer's copy. On last fly-leaf, "Joannes Bernardus Gautier." Purchased, September, 1910.

Proctor mentions only two books from the press of Leonard Holle, the Ptolemy and a Buch der Weisheit.

COLOMBO, CRISTOFORO. Capitulaciones. [MANUSCRIPT.]

On the fly-leaf is the following note:

"Sevilla, May 27th, 1871. The present manuscript seems to be a fragment of some petition addressed to Ferdinand and Isabella by Christopher Columbus, claiming (as usual) certain rights based upon several conventions ('Capitulaciones') which are herein recited.

"The 'Capitulaciones' of 1492, which are here given, can be found in Navarrete, but the others have never been printed, and do not even exist in the Archives of the Indias.

"This document was evidently dictated by Christopher Columbus at the island of Hispaniola in 1494. By comparing the handwriting with that of several important papers preserved here, especially with the Instrucion del Almirante D. Cristobal Colon a Moseu Pedro Margarite, and the Copia de la Informacion y testimonio de como el Almirante D. Cristobal Colon y los que con el iban descubrieron la Tierra firme, a 12 de Junio de 1494 (Est. no. 1; Caj. No. 1, Leg. No. 1. = 8), Don Francisco de Paula Iuarez, the chief archivist, and myself, came to the conclusion that it had been written by Diego de Peñalosa, 'Escribano de Camera del Rey y de la Reyna, en la isla Isabella, en el año de 1494.'

"HENRY HARRISSE.

"P.S. The document formerly belonged to the archives of the Count d'Altamira. H."

La Lettre de Christophe Colomb annonçant la Découverte du Nouveau Monde. 15 Février–14 mars, 1493. Texte original espagnol, édition princeps, in-folio, différente des deux éditions in-4° connues jusqu'à ce jour. Reproduction en fac-similé d'après l'exemplaire récemment découvert en Espagne, actuellement en la possession de l'éditeur. Paris: J. Maisonneuve, 1889. [Facsimile.

100 copies printed. No. 76. 4 unnumbered leaves, reproducing the text by heliotype by Dujardin. A discussion of the various issues of Columbus letters is in Medina, Biblioteca Hispano-Americana, I. 1.

The Spanish Letter of Columbus to Luis de Sant' Angel, Escribano de Racion of the Kingdom of Aragon. Dated 15 February, 1493. Reprinted in facsimile, translated, and edited from the unique copy of the original edition (printed at Barcelona early in April, 1493), now in the possession of Bernard Quaritch, 1891. [Facsimile.

It is the same document as that offered by Maisonneuve, but the facsimile reproduction (by Griggs) is not as good as the French. There is a preface by "M. K." and "Notes and Verifications" to prove that this was the first Spanish edition. The original document is in the New York Public Library, and is reproduced in Thacher, Christopher Columbus, II. 16—an artotype made by Edward Bierstadt, of New York, in 1902. The history of this unique Spanish issue, found in Spain in 1889, is given in Raccolta di Documenti e Studi pubblicati dalla R. Commissione Colombiana (1893), Part VI, Vol. I. p. 15. The name of the printer is discussed by Harrisse in a letter to the New York Tribune, March 4, 1891.

Pp. xxxii. 5 leaves of facsimile. 150 copies printed at Milan, by Pietro Agnelli, of which this is No. 71. Presented to John Carter Brown by James Lenox, March, 1866. The facsimile gives 32 lines to the page. A note by Mr. John Nicholas Brown, dated Milan, February 28, 1884, states that Mr. Bartlett was mistaken in saying that the original was stolen from the Ambrosian Library. A copy of one of the Latin versions of the letter was taken from the Brera Library in Milan, and may have been responsible for Mr. Bartlett's error. The original is described in Harrisse, Bib. Am. Vet., No. 7.

The Letter in Spanish of Christopher Columbus. Written on his Return from his First Voyage, and Addressed to Luis de Sant Angel, 15 Feb.–14 March, 1493, announcing the Discovery of the New World. Reproduced in facsimile from a unique copy in the possession of the publishers, with introductory and critical remarks, accompanied by a revised Spanish version, and a literal translation into English. London: Ellis & Elvey, 1889.

The critical notes are by Julia E. S. Rae. Reissued with the same title-page except for the change "in the possession of Mr. Brayton Ives of New York." The "unique copy" thus reproduced was a forgery. Harrisse dealt with it in Centralblatt für Bibliothekswesen, XIX. 11. See also Raccolta di Documentie Studi, Part VI, Vol. I. p. 14. It may easily be recognized by its reading "losui" in line 4 of 1ª for "losillu," and "meroi" for "me dieron" in line 5.

41 leaves, unnumbered but with signature-marks. The letter is gothic (bâtarde), 17 lines to a full page. Capital letters and initial-strokes in red. 213 × 155 mm. Hain *14117. With many MS. annotations. It contains the book-plate of Georgius Klosz, M.D., Francofurti ad Moenum, and was obtained in November, 1917, at the sale of the library of George Dunn, Woolley Hall, near Maidenhead. The title does not answer to that issued by the printer of Capotius (Landsberg?), nor that put forth by Landsberg (both undated) as described in Pollard, III. 636, 639. As only the treatise of Sacro Bosco is contained in it, an early date may be assigned.

The wood-cut is the same which appears on the title-page of the Antwerp edition of Vespuccius, 1508. In 1894 Mr. C. H. Coote, of the geographical section, British Museum, printed a facsimile reproduction of the copy of this tract in the Museum, with a translation and notes, in an edition of 250 copies, of which six were on parchment. His arguments are questioned in The Nation (New York), LIX. 347 (November 8, 1894). Henry Harrisse examined the question in his Americus Vespuccius. A Critical and Documentary Review of Two Recent English Books concerning that Navigator. London, 1895, also issued in an edition of 250 copies. He seeks to prove that the letter in this Flemish tract attributed to Vespuccius was a translation into Flemish of Balthasar Sprenger's [Spinger] "Relatio of 1506," and four of the wood-cuts were reduced and altered from those designed by Hans Burgkmaier, on information supplied by Sprenger. He adds that he believes the date of publication, December, 1508, is also spurious.

The two known copies of this Flemish text are not identical, for that in the British Museum on the title following the word "staet" reads: Welcke reyse geschiede || door dē wille eñ ghebode des alder || doorluchtichste Coñs vā Portegals Emanuel. The wood-cut follows, as in the John Carter Brown copy.

181 unnumbered leaves. 448×310 mm. Collation in Eames (Sabin) 66478. Harrisse, Bib. Am. Vet., No. 74. This copy contains the Supplement, and the map of Lorraine is printed in colors. None of the other maps are in colors. Two of the maps relate to America. The first map in the Supplement is "Orbis Typus Vniversalis ivxta Hydrographorvm Traditionem." Gronland is a part of Europe, two islands, "Spagnolla" and "isabella," are named in the "Oceanus Occidentalis," and the northeast coast of the South American continent is indicated, without name, but having five names at different parts of the coast: "batoia," "gigant. brasil," "canibales," "caput sctæ crucis," and "allepago de S. paulo." The second map in the Supplement is "Tabvla terre nove." It is "one of the earliest printed maps devoted entirely to the new world. It represents the coast in a continuous line from C. del mar usiano in North Lat. 55°, to Rio de cananor in South Lat. 35°, with about sixty-one other names along and off the shores; and also the islands of Isabella and Spagnolla, with nearly twenty other islands and places named. On the southern continent is the inscription: 'Hec terra cum adiacentib⁹ insulis inuenta est per Columbū ianuensem ex mandato Regis Castelle.'" Eames. John Carter Brown, I. 47.

MAPPEMONDE.

Separate map in colors: Orbis Typvs Vniversalis ivxta Hydrographorvm Traditionem.

It is the same map as No. 1 of the Supplement in the 1513 edition of Ptolemy, with the names of countries and places in type, and not in engraved letters, except the words Gronland, Evropa, Asia, Africa, Oceanus Occidentalis, and Mare Indicvm. "America" has been inserted in the South American land, but the five place names are the same.

De gæometriæ Principiis ad Sphæ||ræ astronomicæ Noticiam neces||sariis. Capvt primvm. AND, De Asse Compendivm.

A manuscript to which has been prefixed a more modern descriptive title: Codex hic || Henricum Glareanum || agnoscit Authorem. || Quod patet ex impresso ejus Tractatu || de Asse et partibus ejus || fol: Basel. 1550. || Imo hæc ipsius Glareani manu esse picta || constat ex aliis ejusdem authoris || scriptis cum hoc scripto collatis, || videlicet, || Ex Tomo XI Collectiones Epistolam̃ || rarissimarum & ꝑ antiquarum || quæ in Bibliotheca Excel-lentissimi || I. H. Hottingeri extant, in qua aliquot || Glareani Epistolæ ad Zuinglm̃ || & alios apparent. In all 60 unnumbered leaves (46, 47, 58, 59, and 60 being blank), of which 1–45 comprise De gæometricæ Principiis. 315×210 mm. Seven colored maps. No. 1 (recto of 22), a map of the world showing South America, "Terra noua quā quartā mundi partem vocatur ab Hispanis nostro sæculo reperta," and on the northern part, "Nescitur huius vera finis." A portion of North America is described as "Parias" and "Terra ultra ignota." No. 2 (verso of 24), map of Europe, Asia, and Africa. No. 3 (recto of 25), map of Asia and America. North America bears the word "Parias" and "Terra ultra ignota;" South America, on the east, "Caput Sancte Crucis," and "A Lusitanis inventa terra;" and on the west coast line, "Terra ultra ignota." Greenland is "litus ignotū." No. 4 (verso of 25), map of America and the eastern coast of Asia. The island of "Spagnolla" is named, and against North America is a scroll bearing the legend, "Huius finis ignoratur hispani invenitur." In a much larger scroll against South America may be read: "Huc usq3 Nautæ Lusitani peruenerunt, nec dum finem eius reperitur. A nobis hic consulto impfecta relinquitur. Donec ibi major experientia fiat." On the body of the South American continent is written: "Terra Sanctæ Crucis, Siue Nouus mundus Terra hæc a Regñ Hispanorū naucleris inventa est, præsertim a Colombo & Americo Vesputio. Inhabitatores nudi ambulant. Sunt longæ vitæ, nulla religione, nullo [illegible] sed in cōmune vivunt. Multa hic serpentes et bestiae & sylvae & flumina et montes, Margaritarum [et] aure [ ]issima copia. Hanc nos Americam appellamus illae sanctæ crucis Terram." On the southern border of continent: "Nautæ usq3 ad elevationem 50 gradū pervenerūt nō terrae finem invenerūt." "Terra noua" and "Gruenland" are attached to Asia. No. 5 is a continuation of No. 4, and gives Europe, Africa, and a part of Asia. No. 6 is the northern hemisphere, in which the west coastline of North America is labelled "Finis Nescitur," and the islands of "Isabella" (Cuba) "and Spagnolla" are named, as is "Parias" on the mainland. Neither "Terra nova" nor "Gruenland" appears. No. 7, the southern hemisphere, contains South America, with the legend: "Inventa est superior huius regionis pars p̄ mandatū regis castillae [illegible] et Lusitani inferiore [illegible] a nauclero Americo Vesputio a quo hactenus denominata." In the southern Atlantic is written: "Finis Amerigis nec in Austrū nec ad Occidentē omnino lustrata est." See Edward Heawood in The Geographical Journal, June, 1905, and The Royal Engineers' Journal, June, 1905, and September, 1908. Purchased, June, 1912. The MS. is supposed to have been compiled before 1516.

4 unnumbered leaves, with signature-marks. 224×163 mm. A facsimile. Harrisse (Bib. Am. Vet., Add., No. 70) records the title of a tract in the Royal Library, Berlin, which answers to this, but gives two additional lines before the wood-cut. He received the title and illustration from Georg Michael Asher, "who intends to republish the plaquette in facsimile." Harrisse issued his volume in 1872, and October 13, 1873, Mr. Brown received from Quaritch the copy now noted. It does not meet the description given by Harrisse, differing in title-page, in the second use of a cut representing a town and an island, the inscription "Gross Venedig" not appearing, and in the number of leaves. A slip in the Brown copy says: "German translation of Extracts from a letter written by one of Cortes' companions in his landing at the Mexican coast, 1519, and from Letters written by persons in Spain about the arrival of Francisco de Montejo, Cortes' messenger, at Sevilla in the same year; printed by Enschedé (Harlem) with types of the 16th century on old paper in an edition of 30 copies." It is a compilation or compilations made by more than one writer and contains 9 unnumbered leaves (index), 267 numbered leaves, 2 blank leaves, 13 unnumbered leaves (index), 4 blank leaves, and 155 numbered leaves. The index of the first part begins with the "Instruccion para Don Hernando Cortes gouernador de la Nueva España" (October 1, 1522) and ends with "Sobre el beneficio delas minas de Cacatecas" (1583), on folio 182. A supplementary list of "Autos y mandamientos delos Virreyes y Audiencia" carries the contents to folio 267—the end of the first part. This list gives the names of the officials of its period: Virrey don Antᵒ. de Mendoça (1536), Visitador Licenjᵈᵒ Sandoual (1544), Virrey don luys de Velasco (1554), Visitador Licenjᵈᵒ Valderrama (1573), Virrey Marques de falces (1567), Virrey don Martin Enrriques (1569), Virrey Conde de Coruña (1583). The order of latest date in the first part was issued in the year 1587.

The second part opens with an order governing the salaries of Hernando Cortes and the officials with him (1522), and closes with a royal cedula of 1574. 350×217 mm. From the collection of Nicolas Leon.

9 unnumbered leaves of ms., 6 unnumbered leaves of translation. 315×218 mm. Binder's title. Seal. From the Samuel Latham Mitchill Barlow collection. It is the notice issued by Juan de Zumarraga, a Franciscan monk, of his having been appointed Bishop of Mexico, Rome, September 5, 1534, and of offices created by him, signed by his own hand. The body of the document is in the handwriting of Cristobal de Cabrera, with a certificate, also by Cabrera, delivered in Mexico, September 7, 1535. The text may be found in Lorenzana, Concilium Mexicanum (Mexico, 1769), II, at end, with the title "Erectio Ecclesiae Mexicanae quae eadem est cum ceteris ejusdem provinciae." The translation in the John Carter Brown volume is by Henry Harrisse, with biographical sketches of Bishop Zumarraga and Cabrera.

PORTOLANO. [manuscript.]

14 unnumbered leaves. 255 × 330 mm. Drawn on vellum about 1540 as a present from Charles V to his son Philip, afterwards Philip II of Spain. From the collection of Frédéric Spitzer. On three of the maps the American continent is to be found. 1. A world-map giving both North and South America. The northeast part is called "terra de Bacalaos;" "iucata" is an island lying between Cuba and the mainland; "spagnuola" is named, and two cities in Mexico, "timixtita" and "guatimala." In the southern portion "Perv," "mv̄dvs-Novvs," and "Brazil" are prominent names, and the "Rio de la Plata" and a range of mountains separate Brazil from Peru. In Brazil only the "c. d.

S. Agostin" and the city of "brazill" are noted; but in Peru five cities are given, "casamalcha," "cuzcho," "tonbez," "yausa," and "pachi : am." The sailing route from the Mediterranean to Peru is given. 2. A map giving the outline of the eastern coast of America from "c. d. la fortuna" to "el streto de maglane;" and the western coast of Central America and of South America from "rio senado" to the Straits of Magellan. 3. The east and west coasts of North and Central America and the northern and southern parts of South America. While the general outlines differ only in details from similar maps in the Agnese "Carte Nautiche" of 1554, this Portolano is the earlier in date.

This beautiful manuscript was reproduced by photography in one hundred copies in 1875, with an introduction and the following title:

FRUCHER, JOANNES.

Tractatus de Baptismo & || Matrimonio nouiter conuerssorū ad fidē. || a Ꝑ^do^ Prē Joāne frucher ordinis || Diui fran^ci^ edditus: ·ſ· ex euangelio, ex || Aptis & ecclesia: . . . 1^a^ & . 2^a^ pars. Deinde, 3^a^

A manuscript of 2 unnumbered and 110 numbered leaves, Nos. 31, 32, 69, and 70 missing. 215 × 155 mm. The title is taken from 1^b^. On the first fly-leaf is "Tabula huius tractatus," giving the captions of each section. The treatise on matrimony ends on leaf 79. On 80^a^ begins "Sigue se vna Prouechosa declaracion delas cosas obligatorias de nrā regla: y delos casos reseruados al Ministro ꝑ^al^ poz vn docto Religioso y no menos experto y zeloso enlas cosas de nrā sacra religion." To this there are twenty-one sections, ending on 90^b^. On 91^a^: "Siguen se los casos Reseruados al Ministro ꝑ^al^ con su Declaracion: : . . . y son 14." On 106^ab^, 107^a^, and 108^a^ are Indian words with the corresponding Spanish terms, but by another and later hand. Many names are written on the margins of the leaves throughout the work, and the letters S. B. V. D. have been burned on the edge. From the Nicolas Leon collection. Of this MS. Joaquin Garcia Icazbalceta says (Nueva Colección de Documentos para la Historia de México, II (Códice Franciscano), XLVII): "Las dos primeras partes parecen haber sido escritas en Michoacán: Audivi quod in hac provincia de Michuacan nullus gradus affinitatis erat prohibitus (18^b^); pero el prólogo de la 3^a^ parte está fechado Mexico (sic), Idibus Augusti, Anno Dñicae incarnationis 1546 (34^a^). Más adelante se refiere á la Congregación Eclesiástica celebrada ese año. Y por una apostilla del 55^a^ se confirma que el escrito es anterior al Concilio Tridentino: la 14^a^ interrogatio se intitula De clandestino Matrimonio, y la apostilla dice: Clandestina Matrimonia jam sunt annullata per Concilium Tridentinum. Sin embargo, en la 63 hay un modelo de carta al Obispo para solicitar una dispensa matrimonial, con la fecha: Ex Guadal^a^, 4ª Januarii, Anno Dñi. 1580. A ser auténtica esta fecha, el escrito no sería del P. Focher, muerto en 1573; pero pugna con los demás datos expresados, y creo que en el original no tenía fecha el modelo (así hay otro en 48), y que el Guadalajara, 1580, no indica más que el lugar y fecha de la copia."

18 unnumbered leaves, MS., leaves 16 and 17 blank, and leaf 18 with verso blank. 191 × 135 mm. These four MS. items are by the same hand, but there is not even a suggestion as to the identity of the writer. A few marginal notes are in the series of printed tracts, and by three hands, one of them being the scribe of the four manuscripts. A second, in a round distinct writing, has corrected a number of words and slips of the type. The series, with the exception of the reissue of No. 3, was in a volume obtained from the collection of Henri Ternaux-Compans.

There is a reissue of six of the Casas tracts printed in roman, not gothic, letter, with leaves consecutively numbered (1–214) and with a colophon to the first tract, purporting to have been printed by Trugillo and in 1552. It was printed in 1646, by Antonio Lacavalleria, at Barcelona, but the copy in the John Carter Brown Library wants the title-page. John Carter Brown, I. 173.

2 unnumbered leaves, 64 numbered and 2 unnumbered leaves. 220 × 160 mm. The printer has used the blocks of the illustrations which were used in the Antwerp edition of 1561 (Verwithaghen), with a single exception of that which appeared on 27^{b} of the Dutch issue. In compensation Birckmann gives, between 30 and 31, a "Charta cosmographica, cvm Ventorvm propria natvra et operatione." As the legends on the borders for the names of the winds are in Dutch as well as in Latin, it is probable the map was in the Verwithaghen issue. The map is the same as was used in the Bontius issue of Apian of 1550, but the type legends, also in Latin and Dutch, have been reset. Revolving diagrams on 8^{b}, 11^{a}, 28^{a}, and 49^{a}. ms. annotations. Book-plate of Leo S. Olschki. Purchased, December, 1903.
